

WATERSHED WONDERS

COME EXPLORE LITTLE SEWICKLEY CREEK AND ITS WONDERS

Sunday, May 22 from 12-4 PM

Please join the Little Sewickley Creek Watershed Association and many local partners for our first annual watershed discovery day. Come to celebrate and enjoy our local treasure – Little Sewickley Creek!

Through a variety of family friendly hands-on activities:

- Learn that the Little Sewickley Creek Watershed is much more than the stream itself
- Discover our great park system – there are over 25 parks in the area
- Get a close look at “citizen science” projects in the area including salamanders and owls

We are planning lots of activities at a variety of locations – so come and go at your own pace and pick and choose activities.

The hub for the event will be WALKER PARK (53 Little Sewickley Creek Road) but other activities will take place at:

- Sewickley Heights Park
- Bell Acres Restored Salamander Wetland Habitat
- Fern Hollow Nature Center
- Our local beaver dam

At the end of the day there will be a ducky race at Morrow-Pontefract Park!

So get ready to:

Use a kick net and identify macroinvertebrates

Try fishing and learn about all the different species of fish in Little Sewickley Creek

Take a walk in the riparian zone

Learn how to band an owl

Get a close-up look at the handiwork of beavers

Discover microscopic life in a wetland

Learn how (and why) herpetologists tattoo salamanders
